$100,000 Set Up for Farm Machinery

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Joint Budget Committee Monday adopted a motion by Rep. B.D. Brannon of Little Rock that gave a $100,000 supplemental appropriation to the Department of Correction for purchase of new farm machinery.

Robert Sarver, commissioner of correction, had sought $171,000 to purchase new tractors and farm implements to get the spring crops planted at Cummins and Tucker prison farms.

Sarver said the department wanted to borrow the money from the state treasury and would repay it from a $1.4 million capital improvements bond issue it is planning.

The bond issue would be used principally to construct a minimum security unit at Cummins and to further mechanize the penitentiary farming operations.

The committee approved $5,692,000 for 1969-70 and $6,100,000 in 1970-71 for the Children's Colony, which was less than requested by the colony.

Maratha Thompson, $1,323, wife of Sen. Burrell A. Thompson of Paragould.

Dorothy White, $1,323, wife of Sen. Dan White of Fort Smith.

In addition, persons identified as relatives of legislators by the warrant clerks appeared on some of the payrolls.

The list included:

Terry McDonald, $800 for six weeks, daughter of Rep. Gean McDonald of Sheridan.

Henry Hamilton, $100 for one week, brother of Rep. Joe Hamilton of Harrison.

Mary R. Bryan, $420 for three weeks, daughter of Rep. L. L. "Doc" Bryan of Russellville.

Frederica Thomas, $280, for two weeks, wife of Rep. A. Jan Thomas Jr. of West Memphis.

Rose Sorrels, $378 for three weeks, wife of Sen. Carl E. Sorrels of Atkins.

Several other surnames identical to legislators appeared in the records but the warrant clerks said they knew there was no relationship involved.

The first week of the current session several House officials said there was a concerted effort to reduce the nepotism, especially that involving children.

The score of persons who have appeared on each payroll have been working throughout the session, handling the various clerical work that accompanies any legislative session.

In last year's campaigns, Crank's opponents took the 18-year legislator to task for having his wife and four children on the payrolls through the years.

The nepotism issue also may have played a part in former Rep. Bill Wells' loss to Maurice Britt in the lieutenant governor's race. Wells had four of his sons working as pages during a special legislative session last May but only two of the boys received checks.

3 Arkansans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department said Monday three Arkansans have been killed in Vietnam.

Killed in action were Marine Lance Cpl. William H. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Blytheville, and Army Sgt. Jean D. Martin, husband of Mrs. Faye W. Martin of Harrison.

Dying as a result of nonhostile action was Army Spec. 4 Fred J. Bridges, son of Mrs. Annie B. Bridges of Junction City.

Negro Group Helps Black Capitalism

DETROIT (AP) — A Negro organization has promoted about $2 million in loans and grants for a start on establishing black capitalism in the racial slums.

A survey after the 1967 riot showed that while more than 65 per cent of those living in the inner city areas were black, 62 per cent of the business enterprises were white-owned.

"There is a large awareness on the part of the black community that economic independence is necessary for survival," said Walter McMurtry Jr., director of the Inner City Business Improvement Forum (IC-BIF).

ICBIF, a nonprofit organization started after the riot, provides funds, technical and management assistance to the black community to encourage individual enterprise.

It has 77 projects going and 20 more in planning stages.

Sirhan Trial Troubled About Books

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A book about five famous murders brought the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial to a virtual standstill while attorneys argued about how much of the text the jury will see. It won't be much.

The state contends Dr. Martin Schorr, a psychologist the defense had on the witness stand all last week, cribbed liberally from the book in testifying that Sirhan killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as a symbolic replica of his hated father, Prosecutor John E. Howard argued for admission of some 90 pages of "A Casebook of a Crime Psychiatrist" by Dr. James A. Brussel to show similarities with Schorr's testimony.

Another state's attorney said the book is "not a learned treatise, but a popular piece of fiction" and that the jury cannot evaluate the material without knowing "the flavor of this book."

Schorr conceded he had read the book, but the question of whether he copied from it for his diagnosis had not been put to him directly.

Judge Herbert V. Walker, granting defense objections, ruled the state could excerpt only portions that coincided with Schorr's testimony and present them side-by-side to the jury.

The jury was in the courtroom for only about one hour Monday as the trial went into its 10th week. The arguments over the book were conducted out of the jury's hearing in the afternoon.

Howard had the psychologist read from a letter Monday in which Schorr expressed his eagerness to help the defense on the case. The letter was dated July 10—a little more than a month after Sirhan mortally wounded Kennedy.

Senate Doves Holding Back, Not Fulbright

By JACK BELL AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Senate doves are hanging back, apparently willing to give President Nixon more time to try to end the Vietnam war, as J. W. Fulbright and George S. McGovern revive the attacks that helped bring down Lyndon Johnson.

McGovern, South Dakotan who sought the Democratic presidential nomination as a peace candidate, said Monday that Nixon may be sowing seeds of "national tragedy and certainly of personal political disaster" by continuing Johnson policies.

Fulbright, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, opened up last week, ending a nearly complete Senate silence on Vietnam since the Republican President took office.

But McGovern made his attack to an almost empty Senate and, significantly, no doves showed up to discuss his suggestion that stepped up U.S. military activities in the past five months may have triggered the current enemy offensive.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Whip Edward M. Kennedy were quick to disassociate themselves from McGovern's stand.

Both are standing fast against what they regard as premature criticism of Nixon. They feel it could tag the Democrats with the charge they are playing politics with the war.

Mansfield told reporters that those who criticize the President's course—as the Democratic leader frequently did when Johnson was in the White House—should remember that Nixon inherited the Vietnam war.

The Montana Senator said that while Johnson's policies are given leeway and flexibility to develop his own, Kennedy said that Nixon had shown some restraint by not escalating the war in response to the Viet Cong attacks.

"He said in the campaign that he has a peace plan," Kennedy said. "He has stated in leadership meetings that the plan is in effect in the negotiations in Paris. . . . We should give an opportunity for the plan to be tested. I am not convinced that the president has been given the opportunity to do that."

Kennedy added that the leaders have not been told what Nixon's plan is. Actually, Nixon confined himself in the campaign to saying that a Republican president would end the war.

But if there are no identifiable signs of progress in the Paris talks, the Democrats can be expected in time to begin asking pointed questions about what

of the governor on several occasions since then," he said.

"There has been no cordiality or dialogue between the governor and me since that time," Scott said.

He said he was submitting his resignation at this time for two reasons.

"In the first place I am convinced that the governor intended to replace me at the end of the legislative session. In the second place I wanted to point up, if possible, the importance of taking the Arkansas State Police out of politics if there is any legislative means for this accomplishment," Scott said.

In his letter to the governor, Scott said it was clear "that we are not in accord in our concepts of moral and ethical conduct for my officers and my uncompromising position has very possibly widened the gap between us," Scott said.

"It is clear that intensified efforts are being made to sabotage the organization by cells of disloyalty within and without," he said. "Lately new rumors, if they are rumors, are being planted almost daily and those who oppose me have much closer lines of communication than I do."

Myer's Names Production Manager

Joe E. Turner, a bakery production manager with 24 years' experience, has been appointed Production Development Manager for Meyer's Bakeries, Inc. of Little Rock.

He will be in charge of developing new products and researching new concepts in production methods.

A native of Commerce, Texas, Turner, 38, attended Fort Worth schools and completed a course in the science and technology of baking at the Siebel Institute of Technology. He previously was production foreman for American Bakeries Company of Fort Worth; Meads Bakeries of Wichita Falls, Texas; and Production Manager for Mrs. Bohner's Bakery, Inc. of San Antonio before joining Patco Products of Atlanta as a sales service representative last year.

Turner is a member of the American Society of Bakery Engineers and has presented technical papers on his development of new processes and methods at several industry meetings.

He is married and the father of five children. He and his family will live in Little Rock.

Meyer's Bakeries produces more than two dozen bake'n serve products for nationwide distribution at its Hope and Blytheville plants. Other plant locations for wholesale bakery route operations include Little Rock and Memphis.

facilities.

On the other hand, officials agreed that the money-tightening move may discourage some corporations from borrowing at this time to finance new plant and equipment outlays.

This would be a salutary effect, most administration experts agree.

A government survey, announced last Thursday, showed that companies plan a 14 percent increase in 1969 over the 1968 level of plant and equipment outlays.

Such an upswing in business spending could, in the opinion of many officials, frustrate the government's efforts to cool off the boom by the credit-tightening efforts of the Federal Reserve board, a clampdown on government spending.

If the boost in the prime rate—with or without an accompanying rise in the discount rate—causes any sizeable number of firms to defer their expansion plans, this will be considered a welcome development in most administration quarters.

Mark and Brad McKenzie, Little Rock, are visiting this week with their grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. Jim McKenzie.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

THEY PLAY "PASS THE BLAME"

Dear Helen: My parents are nice, but not exactly honest. I mean about fighting. When something bugs Mom about Dad, she criticizes us kids for it, hoping he'll get the idea. Like his work bench is a mess—for the worst part of the garage. So she yells at US to clean up our junk in the garage—in Dad's hearing of course.

And if the kitchen floor is dirty (That's Mom's job) Dad tells us about it, not her.

Our parents get the message all right, and get their jobs done, but why must we kids be blamed first? Why can't they just come right out and say to each other, "You're getting sloppy," or "How about doing the job you're supposed to do?"—RICK O'SHAY

Dear Rick: I'll bet almost every parent reading this will see her or himself in your letter. We're all guilty of second-hand criticism, this because it gets the message across to our mates with less "bossing," therefore less chance of a fight.

So long as you kids understand this little game it shouldn't bother you. It's called "Bounce the Blame" at our house, and we're so aware of it we sometimes end up laughing. . . But not always!

Dear Helen: You said the "spanking controversy" is over, but I'd like to ask you a few questions about your personal opinions:

1. Do you think teenagers should be punished this way?

(Answer) No—except in very unusual circumstances: A last-resort measure which might happen only once, and hit the mark. Generally speaking, if a child hasn't learned responsibility and trustworthiness by teen age, repeated spankings won't pound these qualities into him. More likely they'll regard his "growing up."

2. Do you favor bare-bottom spankings? Or such spankings in front of other members of the family, or friends?

(Answer) Definitely not! This is darn near sadism!

3. Do you believe that if more

Easter Seal Chairman

MELISSA JORDAN

Miss Melissa Jordan has been appointed 1969 Teenage Easter Seal Chairman for the Hope Easter Lily Sale, it was announced today by Mrs. Gaylord Solomon, chairman for the campaign.

"Melissa will enlist and organize several of the junior high school students of Hope to work in the Easter Lily Sale which will be held in Hope Saturday, April 5," Mrs. Solomon said. "She will be helping to rally the nation's millions of teenagers to the cause of crippled children. Teenagers now make up more than $15,000,000,000."

Miss Jordan is a Freshman at Hope High School, and she has been a junior high cheerleader three years, homecoming maid and is active in various school activities. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lorene Jordan.

"We know Lisa will do her best," said Mrs. Solomon. "But we need every teenager for Easter Seals and the crippled children they help. We hope the youth of Hope will answer the challenge and play an important role in the success of our Easter Seal Campaign."

Poverty Doctor Victim of Malnutrition

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country doctor whose reports of starvation in two rural South Carolina counties helped touch off a Senate investigation of hunger in the nation has been hospitalized because of malnutrition.

Dr. Donald Catch, a 38-year-old white physician from Bluffton, S.C., was listed in fair condition at Freedmen's Hospital. His doctor said, suffering as well from exhaustion and possibly intestinal worms.

Catch's physician said his condition apparently was caused by overwork and resulting poor eating habits. He was admitted Saturday.

"The poor man has been working night and day," said a close friend of Catch's. "Hundreds of Negroes over a three or five county area call him and he is the only white doctor in several counties who will treat them."

Pocket Radio Puzzled Ray Probers

By BERNARD GAVZER

Associated Press Writer

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — In his fight from the scene of the Martin Luther King assassination James Earl Ray abandoned a pocket radio in a plastic case bearing his number as an inmate of the Missouri State penitentiary.

The meaning of the number eluded the authorities until weeks after Ray's capture last June 8 in London. It was disclosed Monday.

James Beasley of the Shelby County attorney general's staff said Ray dropped his rifle, a pair of binoculars and the case with the radio in it in a doorway near the rooming house from which he shot the Negro civil rights leader.

On the case was etched the number 00416 in numerals half an inch high. That was Ray's number at the Missouri prison, where he was serving 20 years for robbery when he escaped April 23, 1967.

The number was kept secret, but the FBI traced it to the penitentiary about a month after Ray was caught.

Warden Harold Swenson said Ray had bought the radio in the penitentiary canteen on April 21, 1967—two days before he got away. It cost $9.75. In accordance with prison practice, Ray etched his number on the case with an electric stylus to establish ownership.

Elsewhere there were these developments in the Ray case:

Russell X. Thompson of Memphis, a lawyer who said he had investigated the assassination, met in New York with attorneys of the Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Thompson said he had presented some new information about the slaying and there had been a discussion of whether it could be "raised to the dignity of evidence."

moved to South Carolina 10 years ago, first touched off a storm of controversy in 1967 with his charges that children were dying of starvation and that families lived in huts worse than pigsties.

Although Beaufort County doctors scoffed at his statements, a team of doctors and scientists later reported that 73 per cent of 131 Negro pre-school children in the county were afflicted with parasites.

Catch said he was ostracized by fellow doctors, received threatening phone calls and was boycotted by white patients.

An investigating committee headed by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., probed the conditions described by Catch last month and triggered new free food stamp programs for the poor in Beaufort and neighboring Jasper County.

Catch said he was beaten in his office two weeks ago by five young white men and 5 that the alleged attack aggravated his weakened condition. He said he never reported the attack.

Students and Adults Arrested

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police arrested 133 students and five adults at a suburban New York high school but there was relative calm elsewhere on the nation's troubled campuses.

The mass arrests came Monday after groups of students roamed the halls chanting "Black Power" and "We Shall Overcome," to underscore demands for more Negro teachers and counselors and a black studies course.

Lincoln Lynch, executive vice president of the New York Urban Coalition was arrested on charges of inciting to riot, resisting arrest and assaulting two policemen. All the others—mostly Negroes—were charged with criminal trespass, a misdemeanor.

A group of about 250 students at the Southeast campus of Chicago City College ended their boycott Monday after settling six issues with college officials. The school had been closed by the boycott.

The protesters demanded more Negro students and teachers and more Negro-oriented courses. The school has 3,165 students, half of them Negro.

Pepperdine College in Los Angeles closed in observance of Wednesday's funeral of a Negro high school student killed by a shotgun blast on the campus last week. A campus security guard has been charged with suspicion of murder.

Police said they knew no motive for the slaying.

At the urging of many of the school's 300 Negro students, Pepperdine has agreed to provide college educations for the slain student's brother and sister and to pay for the funeral. Pepperdine has 1,700 students.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) It was a happy idea to bring together Broadway's two Dollies—Carol Channing and Pearl Bailey—for a merry, two-woman show.

The ABC special Sunday night was a glittering, tuneful combination of comedy and song. Miss Channing and Miss Bailey, whose styles are very different, complimented each other nicely.

Carol Channing was at her amusing best in an impression of Marlene Dietrich. Pearl Bailey shone in a solo singing spot studded with her characteristic, drawing interpolations. The least effective numbers were a group of songs first sung by men in assorted Broadway shows. They wound up, of course, in a duet of—"Hello, Dolly!"—from the musical that they both have played for so long.

NBC broadcast a late prime-time hour to broadcast a news department special showing the spread of Russian influence in the Mediterranean and the countries that line its coast.

It was a clamorous, thoughtful summary that hammered home the increasing importance of the subject.

School officials estimated the damage at $2,000. There were no arrests or injuries reported.

Negro students have been seeking an Afro-American studies program and admission of more Negro students.

Rutgers University closed its Newark, N.J. campus Monday to permit discussions of a plan adopted by university trustees to admit any high school graduate from the three cities where Rutgers has campuses: Newark, Camden and New Brunswick.

About 700 students heard a university vice president call the plan "absolutely revolutionary." A spokesman for the Black Organization of Students lauded it.

At the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho, about 3,000 students gave school president Ernest W. Hartung a cheering endorsement at a rally in the rain.

$100,000 Set Up for Farm Machinery

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Joint Budget Committee Monday adopted a motion by Rep. B.D. Brandon of Little Rock that gave a $100,000 supplemental appropriation to the Department of Correction for purchase of new farm machinery.

Robert Sarver, commissioner of correction, had sought $171,000 to purchase new tractors and farm implements to get the spring crops planted at Cummins and Tucker prison farms.

Sarver said the department wanted to borrow the money from the state treasury and would repay it from a $1.4 million capital improvements bond issue it is planning.

The bond issue would be used principally to construct a minimum security unit at Cummins and to further mechanize the penitentiary farming operations.

The committee approved $5,892,000 for 1969-70 and $6,100,000 in 1970-71 for the Children's Colony, which was less than requested by the colony.

Dorothy White, $1,323, wife of Sen. Dan White of Fort Smith.

In addition, persons identified as relatives of legislators by the warrant clerks appeared on some of the payrolls.

The list included:

Terry McDonald, $800 for six weeks, daughter of Rep. Gean McDonald of Sheridan.

Henry Hamilton, $100 for one week, brother of Rep. Joe Hamilton of Harrison.

Mary R. Bryan, $420 for three weeks, daughter of Rep. L. L. "Doc" Bryan of Russellville.

Frederica Thomas, $280, for two weeks, wife of Rep. A. Jan Thomas Jr. of West Memphis.

Rose Sorrels, $378 for three weeks, wife of Sen. Carl E. Sorrels of Atkins.

Several other surnames identical to legislators appeared in the records but the warrant clerks said they knew there was no relationship involved.

The first week of the current session several House officials said there was a concerted effort to reduce the nepotism, especially that involving children.

The score of persons who have appeared on each payroll have been working throughout the session, handling the various clerical work that accompanies any legislative session.

In last year's campaigns, Crank's opponents took the 18-year legislator to task for having his wife and four children on the payrolls through the years.

The nepotism issue also may have played a part in former Rep. Bill Wells' loss to Maurice Britt in the lieutenant governor's race. Wells had four of his sons working as pages during a special legislative session last May but only two of the boys received checks.

War Claims 3 Arkansans

Killed in action were Marine Lance Cpl. William H. Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown of Blytheville, and Army Sgt. Jean D. Martin, husband of Mrs. Faye W. Martin of Harrison.

Dying as a result of nonhostile action was Army Spec. 4 Fred J. Bridges, son of Mrs. Annie B. Bridges of Junction City.

Negro Group Helps Black Capitalism

DETROIT (AP) — A Negro organization has promoted about $2 million in loans and grants for a start on establishing black capitalism in the racial slums.

A survey after the 1967 riot showed that while more than 65 per cent of those living in the inner city areas were black, 82 per cent of the business enterprises were white-owned.

"There is a large awareness on the part of the black community that economic independence is necessary for survival," said Walter McMurtry Jr., director of the Inner City Business Improvement Forum (IC-BIF).

ICBIF, a nonprofit organization started after the riot, provides funds, technical and management assistance to the black community to encourage individual enterprise.

It has 77 projects going and 20 more in planning stages.

Sirhan Trial Troubled About Books

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL, Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A book about five famous murders brought the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial to a virtual standstill while attorneys argued about how much of the text the jury will see. It won't be much.

The state contends Dr. Martin Schorr, a psychologist the defense had on the witness stand all last week, cribbed liberally from the book in testifying that Sirhan killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as a symbolic replica of his hated father, Prosecutor John E. Howard argued for admission of some 90 pages of "A Casebook of a Crime Psychiatrist" by Dr. James A. Brussel to show similarities with Schorr's testimony.

Another state's attorney said the book is "not a learned treatise, but a popular piece of fiction" and that the jury cannot evaluate the material without knowing "the flavor of this book."

Schorr conceded he had read the book, but the question of whether he copied from it for his diagnosis had not been put to him directly.

Judge Herbert V. Walker, granting defense objections, ruled the state could excerpt only portions that coincided with Schorr's testimony and present them side-by-side to the jury.

The jury was in the courtroom for only about one hour Monday as the trial went into its 10th week. The arguments over the book were conducted out of the jury's hearing in the afternoon.

Howard had the psychologist read from a letter Monday in which Schorr expressed his eagerness to help the defense on the case. The letter was dated July 10—a little more than a month after Sirhan mortally wounded Kennedy.

Senate Doves Holding Back, Not Fulbright

By JACK BELL, AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Senate doves are hanging back, apparently willing to give President Nixon more time to try to end the Vietnam war, as J. W. Fulbright and George S. McGovern revive the attacks that helped bring down Lyndon Johnson.

McGovern, South Dakotan who sought the Democratic presidential nomination as a peace candidate, said Monday that Nixon may be sowing seeds of "national tragedy and certainly of personal political disaster" by continuing Johnson policies.

Fulbright, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, opened up last week, ending a nearly complete Senate silence on Vietnam since the Republican President took office.

But McGovern made his attack to an almost empty Senate and, significantly, no convey of doves showed up to discuss his suggestion that stepped up U.S. military activities in the past five months may have triggered the current enemy offensive.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Whip Edward M. Kennedy were quick to disassociate themselves from McGovern's stand.

Both are standing fast against what they regard as premature criticism of Nixon. They feel it could tag the Democrats with the charge they are playing politics with the war.

Mansfield told reporters that those who criticize the President's course—as the Democratic leader frequently did when Johnson was in the White House—should remember that Nixon inherited the Vietnam war.

The Montana Senator said that while Johnson's policies are given leeway and flexibility to develop his own.

Kennedy said that Nixon had shown some restraint by not escalating the war in response to the Viet Cong attacks.

"He said in the campaign that he has a peace plan," Kennedy said. "He has stated in leadership meetings that the plan is in effect in the negotiations in Paris. . . . We should give an opportunity for the plan to be tested. I am not convinced that the president has been given the opportunity to do that."

Kennedy added that the leaders have not been told what Nixon's plan is. Actually, Nixon confined himself in the campaign to saying that a Republican president would end the war.

But if there are no identifiable signs of progress in the Paris talks, the Democrats can be expected in time to begin asking pointed questions about what

of the governor on several occasions since then," he said.

"There has been no cordiality or dialogue between the governor and me since that time," Scott said.

He said he was submitting his resignation at this time for two reasons.

"In the first place I am convinced that the governor intended to replace me at the end of the legislative session. In the second place I wanted to point up, if possible, the importance of taking the Arkansas State Police out of politics if there is any legislative means for this accomplishment," Scott said.

In his letter to the governor, Scott said it was clear "that we are not in accord in our concepts of moral and ethical conduct for my officers and my uncompromising position has very possibly widened the gap between us," Scott said.

"It is clear that intensified efforts are being made to sabotage the organization by cells of disloyalty within and without," he said. "Lately new rumors, if they are rumors, are being planted almost daily and those who oppose me have much closer lines of communication than I do."

Myer's Names Production Manager

Joe E. Turner, a bakery production manager with 24 years' experience, has been appointed Production Development Manager for Meyer's Bakeries, Inc. of Little Rock.

He will be in charge of developing new products and researching new concepts in production methods.

A native of Commerce, Texas, Turner, 38, attended Fort Worth schools and completed a course in the science and technology of baking at the Stebel Institute of Technology. He previously was production foreman for American Bakeries Company of Fort Worth; Meads Bakeries of Wichita Falls, Texas; and Production Manager for Mrs. Bohnet's Bakery, Inc. of San Antonio before joining Patco Products of Atlanta as a sales service representative last year.

Turner is a member of the American Society of Bakery Engineers and has presented technical papers on his development of new processes and methods at several industry meetings.

He is married and the father of five children. He and his family will live in Little Rock.

On the other hand, officials agreed that the money-tightening move may discourage some corporations from borrowing at this time to finance new plant and equipment outlays.

This would be a salutary effect, most administration experts agree.

A government survey, announced last Thursday, showed that companies plan a 14 per cent increase in 1969 over the 1968 level of plant and equipment outlays.

Such an upswing in business spending could, in the opinion of many officials, frustrate the government's efforts to cool off the boom by the credit-tightening efforts of the Federal Reserve board, a clampdown on government spending.

If the boost in the prime rate — with or without an accompanying rise in the discount rate — causes any sizeable number of firms to defer their expansion plans, this will be considered a welcome development in most administration quarters.

Miss Melissa Jordan has been appointed 1969 Teenage Easter Seal Chairman for the Hope Easter Lily Sale. It was announced today by Mrs. Gaylord Solomon, chairman for the campaign.

"Melissa will enlist and organize several of the junior high school students of Hope to work in the Easter Lily Sale which will be held in Hope Saturday, April 5," Mrs. Solomon said. "She will be helping to rally the nation's millions of teenagers to the cause of crippled children. Teenagers now make up more

Miss Jordan is a Freshman at Hope High School, and she has been a junior high cheerleader three years, homecoming maid and is active in various school activities. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lorene Jordan. "We know Lisa will do her best," said Mrs. Solomon. "But we need every teenager for Easter Seals and the crippled children they help. We hope the youth of Hope will answer the challenge and play an important role in the success of our Easter Seal Campaign."

Poverty Doctor Victim of Malnutrition

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The country doctor whose reports of starvation in two rural South Carolina counties helped touch off a Senate investigation of hunger in the nation has been hospitalized because of malnutrition.

Dr. Donald Gatch, a 38-year-old white physician from Bluffton, S.C., was listed in fair condition at Freedmen's Hospital. His doctor said, suffering as well from exhaustion and possibly intestinal worms.

Gatch's physician said his condition apparently was caused by overwork and resulting poor eating habits. He was admitted Saturday.

"The poor man has been working night and day," said a close friend of Gatch's. "Hundreds of Negroes over a three or five county area call him and he is the only white doctor in several counties who will treat them."

Pocket Radio Puzzled Ray Probers

By BERNARD GAVZER

Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — In his fight from the scene of the Martin Luther King assassination James Earl Ray abandoned a pocket radio in a plastic case bearing his number as an inmate of the Missouri State penitentiary.

The meaning of the number eluded the authorities until weeks after Ray's capture last June 8 in London. It was disclosed Monday.

James Beasley of the Shelby County attorney general's staff said Ray dropped his rifle, a pair of binoculars and the case with the radio in it in a doorway near the rooming house from which he shot the Negro civil rights leader.

On the case was etched the number 00416 in numerals half an inch high. That was Ray's number at the Missouri prison, where he was serving 20 years for robbery when he escaped April 23, 1967.

The number was kept secret, but the FBI traced it to the penitentiary about a month after Ray was caught.

Warden Harold Swenson said Ray had bought the radio in the penitentiary canteen on April 21, 1967—two days before he got away. It cost $9.75. In accordance with prison practice, Ray etched his number on the case with an electric stylus to establish ownership.

Elsewhere there were these developments in the Ray case: Russell X. Thompson of Memphis, a lawyer who said he had investigated the assassination, met in New York with attorneys of the Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Thompson said he had presented some new information about the slaying and there had been a discussion of whether it could be "raised to the dignity of evidence."

moved to South Carolina 10 years ago, first touched off a storm of controversy in 1967 with his charges that children were dying of starvation and that families lived in huts worse than pigsties.

Although Beaufort County doctors scoffed at his statements, a team of doctors and scientists later reported that 73 per cent of 131 Negro pre-school children in the county were infested with parasites.

Gatch said he was ostracized by fellow doctors, received threatening phone calls and was boycotted by white patients.

An investigating committee headed by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., probed the conditions described by Gatch last month and triggered new free food stamp programs for the poor in Beaufort and neighboring Jasper County.

Gatch said he was beaten in his office two weeks ago by five young white men and 5 that the alleged attack aggravated his weakened condition. He said he never reported the attack.

They Take Special Course

Students and Adults Arrested

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police arrested 133 students and five adults at a suburban New York high school but there was relative calm elsewhere on the nation's troubled campuses.

The mass arrests came Monday at Malverne High School after groups of students roamed the halls chanting "Black Power" and "We Shall Overcome," to underscore demands for more Negro teachers and counselors and a black studies course.

Lincoln Lynch, executive vice president of the New York Urban Coalition was arrested on charges of inciting to riot, resisting arrest and assaulting two policemen. All the others—mostly Negroes—were charged with criminal trespass, a misdemeanor.

A group of about 250 students at the Southeast campus of Chicago City College ended their boycott Monday after settling six issues with college officials. The school had been closed by the boycott.

The protesters demanded more Negro students and teachers and more Negro-oriented courses. The school has 3,165 students, half of them Negro.

Pepperdine College in Los Angeles closed in observance of Wednesday's funeral of a Negro high school student killed by a shotgun blast on the campus last week. A campus security guard has been charged with suspicion of murder.

Police said they knew no motive for the slaying.

At the urging of many of the school's 300 Negro students, Pepperdine has agreed to provide college educations for the slain student's brother and sister and to pay for the funeral.

Pepperdine has 1,700 students. Students broke windows and overturned furniture in a cafeteria at a Negro student leader reported he had been attacked by three white students in a cam-

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) It was a happy idea to bring together Broadway's two Dollies—Carol Channing and Pearl Bailey—for a merry, two-woman show.

The ABC special Sunday night was a glittering, tuneful combination of comedy and song. Miss Channing and Miss Bailey, whose styles are very different, complimented each other nicely.

Carol Channing was at her amusing best in an impression of Marlene Dietrich. Pearl Bailey shone in a solo singing spot studded with her characteristic, drawing interpolations. The least effective numbers were a group of songs first sung by men in assorted Broadway shows. They wound up, of course, in a duet of—"Hello, Dolly."—from the musical that they both have played for so long.

NBC used a late prime-time hour to broadcast a news department special showing the spread of Russian influence in the Mediterranean and the countries that line its coast. It was a clamorously thoughtful summary that hammered home the increasing importance

School officials estimated the damage at $2,000. There were no arrests or injuries reported.

Negro students have been seeking an Afro-American studies program and admission of more Negro students.

Rutgers University closed its Newark, N.J. campus Monday to permit discussions of a plan adopted by university trustees to admit any high school graduate from the three cities where Rutgers has campuses: Newark, Camden and New Brunswick.

About 700 students heard a university vice president call the plan "absolutely revolutionary." A spokesman for the Black Organization of Students lauded it.

At the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho, about 3,000 students gave school president Ernest W. Hartung a cheering endorsement at a rally in the rain.

"We want Ernie... Ernie's our man," the crowd screamed in a show of support for Hartung's battle with state legislators for more funds.

of Soviet, and American ships and influence in the area, with the possibility of it leading to a major confrontation.

An ABC news program tonight will concentrate on three young people who are tackling some tough problems of our times and are actually making some headway.

The special, "Three Young Americans: In Search of Survival," focuses on a Philadelphia social worker, a conservationist working to preserve our wilderness areas and a marine conservationist working on water pollution problems.

Harold Haskins, the social worker who is a product of the Philadelphia slum area himself, was able to move one of the city's toughest gangs off the street and into a studio. He turned them into amateur film makers.

The project was so successful, it expanded into other business areas.

"What I wanted to do," said Haskins, "was give them something to think about after they got home. Recreation was great, but it was over when the basketball or football game was over."

$100,000 Set Up for Farm Machinery

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Joint Budget Committee Monday adopted a motion by Rep. B.D. Brandon of Little Rock that gave a $100,000 supplemental appropriation to the Department of Correction for purchase of new farm machinery.

Robert Sarver, commissioner of correction, had sought $171,000 to purchase new tractors and farm implements to get the spring crops planted at Cummins and Tucker prison farms.

Sarver said the department wanted to borrow the money from the state treasury and would repay it from a $1.4 million capital improvements bond issue it is planning.

The bond issue would be used principally to construct a minimum security unit at Cummins and to further mechanize the penitentiary farming operations.

The committee approved $5,692,000 for 1969-70 and $6,100,000 in 1970-71 for the Children's Colony, which was less than requested by the colony.

In addition, persons identified as relatives of legislators by the warrant clerks appeared on some of the payrolls.

The list included:

Terry McDonald, $800 for six weeks, daughter of Rep. Gean McDonald of Sheridan.

Henry Hamilton, $100 for one week, brother of Rep. Joe Hamilton of Harrison.

Mary R. Bryan, $420 for three weeks, daughter of Rep. L. L. "Doc" Bryan of Russellville.

Frederica Thomas, $280, for two weeks, wife of Rep. A. Jan Thomas Jr. of West Memphis.

Rose Sorrels, $378 for three weeks, wife of Sen. Carl E. Sorrels of Atkins.

Several other surnames identical to legislators appeared in the records but the warrant clerks said they knew there was no relationship involved.

The first week of the current session several House officials said there was a concerted effort to reduce the nepotism, especially that involving children.

The score of persons who have appeared on each payroll have been working throughout the session, handling the various clerical work that accompanies any legislative session.

In last year's campaign, Crank's opponents took the 18-year legislator to task for having his wife and four children on the payrolls through the years.

The nepotism issue also may have played a part in former Rep. Bill Wells' loss to Maurice Britt in the lieutenant governor's race. Wells had four of his sons working as pages during a special legislative session last May but only two of the boys received checks.

Dying as a result of nonhostile action was Army Spec. 4 Fred J. Bridges, son of Mrs. Annie B. Bridges of Junction City.

Negro Group Helps Black Capitalism

DETROIT (AP) — A Negro organization has promoted about $2 million in loans and grants for a start on establishing black capitalism in the racial slums.

A survey after the 1967 riot showed that while more than 65 per cent of those living in the inner city areas were black, 62 per cent of the business enterprises were white-owned.

"There is a large awareness on the part of the black community that economic independence is necessary for survival," said Walter McMurtry Jr., director of the Inner City Business Improvement Forum (IC-BIF).

ICBIF, a nonprofit organization started after the riot, provides funds, technical and management assistance to the black community to encourage individual enterprise.

It has 77 projects going and 20 more in planning stages.

Sirhan Trial Troubled About Books

By HARRY F. ROSENTHAL, Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A book about five famous murders brought the Sirhan Bishara Sirhan murder trial to a virtual standstill while attorneys argued about how much of the text the jury will see. It won't be much.

The state contends Dr. Martin Schorr, a psychologist the defense had on the witness stand all last week, cribbed liberally from the book in testifying that Sirhan killed Sen. Robert F. Kennedy as a symbolic replica of his hated father. Prosecutor John E. Howard argued for admission of some 90 pages of "A Casebook of a Crime Psychologist" by Dr. James A. Brussel to show similarities with Schorr's testimony.

Another state's attorney said the book is "not a learned treatise, but a popular piece of fiction" and that the jury cannot evaluate the material without knowing "the flavor of this book."

Schorr conceded he had read the book, but the question of whether he copied from it for his diagnosis had not been put to him directly.

Judge Herbert V. Walker, granting defense objections, ruled the state could excerpt only portions that coincided with Schorr's testimony and present them side-by-side to the jury.

The jury was in the courtroom for only about one hour Monday as the trial went into its 10th week. The arguments over the book were conducted out of the jury's hearing in the afternoon.

Howard had the psychologist read from a letter Monday in which Schorr expressed his eagerness to help the defense on the case. The letter was dated July 10—a little more than a month after Sirhan mortally wounded Kennedy.

Senate Doves Holding Back, Not Fulbright

By JACK BELL, AP Political Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most Senate doves are hanging back, apparently willing to give President Nixon more time to try to end the Vietnam war, as J. W. Fulbright and George S. McGovern revive the attacks that helped bring down Lyndon Johnson.

McGovern, South Dakotan who sought the Democratic presidential nomination as a peace candidate, said Monday that Nixon may be sowing seeds of "national tragedy and certainly of personal political disaster" by continuing Johnson policies.

Fulbright, Chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, opened up last week, ending a nearly complete Senate silence on Vietnam since the Republican President took office.

But McGovern made his attack to an almost empty Senate and, significantly, no covey of doves showed up to discuss his suggestion that stepped up U.S. military activities in the past five months may have triggered the current enemy offensive.

Majority Leader Mike Mansfield and Whip Edward M. Kennedy were quick to disassociate themselves from McGovern's stand.

Both are standing fast against what they regard as premature criticism of Nixon. They feel it could tag the Democrats with the charge they are playing politics with the war.

Mansfield told reporters that those who criticize the President's course—as the Democratic leader frequently did when Johnson was in the White House—should remember that Nixon inherited the Vietnam war.

The Montana Senator said that while Johnson's policies are given leeway and flexibility to develop his own.

Kennedy said that Nixon had shown some restraint by not escalating the war in response to the Viet Cong attacks.

"He said in the campaign that he has a peace plan," Kennedy said. "He has stated in leadership meetings that the plan is in effect in the negotiations in Paris . . . We should give an opportunity for the plan to be tested. I am not convinced that the president has been given the opportunity to do that."

Kennedy added that the leaders have not been told what Nixon's plan is. Actually, Nixon confined himself in the campaign to saying that a Republican president would end the war.

But if there are no identifiable signs of progress in the Paris talks, the Democrats can be expected in time to begin asking pointed questions about what

"There has been no cordiality or dialogue between the governor and me since that time," Scott said.

He said he was submitting his resignation at this time for two reasons.

In the second place I wanted to point up, if possible, the importance of taking the Arkansas State Police out of politics if there is any legislative means for this accomplishment," Scott said.

In his letter to the governor, Scott said it was clear "that we are not in accord in our concepts of moral and ethical conduct for my officers and my uncompromising position has very possibly widened the gap between us," Scott said.

"It is clear that intensified efforts are being made to sabotage the organization by cells of disloyalty within and without," he said. "Lately new rumors, if they are rumors, are being planted almost daily and those who oppose me have much closer lines of communication than I do."

facilities.

On the other hand, officials agreed that the money-tightening move may discourage some corporations from borrowing at this time to finance new plant and equipment outlays.

This would be a salutary effect, most administration experts agree.

A government survey, announced last Thursday, showed that companies plan a 14 per cent increase in 1969 over the 1968 level of plant and equipment outlays.

Such an upswing in business spending could, in the opinion of many officials, frustrate the government's efforts to cool off the boom by the credit-tightening efforts of the Federal Reserve board, a clampdown on government spending.

If the boost in the prime rate—with or without an accompanying rise in the discount rate—causes any sizeable number of firms to defer their expansion plans, this will be considered a welcome development in most administration quarters.

Miss Melissa Jordan has been appointed 1969 Teenage Easter Seal Chairman for the Hope Easter Lily Sale, it was announced today by Mrs. Gaylord Solomon, chairman for the campaign.

"Melissa will enlist and organize several of the junior high school students of Hope to work in the Easter Lily Sale which will be held in Hope Saturday, April 5," Mrs. Solomon said. "She will be helping to rally the nation's millions of teenagers to the cause of crippled children. Teenagers now make up more than $15,000,000,000."

Miss Jordan is a Freshman at Hope High School, and she has been a junior high cheerleader three years, homecoming maid and is active in various school activities. She is the daughter of Mrs. Lorene Jordan.

"We know Lisa will do her best," said Mrs. Solomon. "But we need every teenager for Easter Seals and the crippled children they help. We hope the youth of Hope will answer the challenge and play an important role in the success of our Easter Seal Campaign."

Poverty Doctor Victim of Malnutrition

By ROBERT A. DOBKIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The country doctor whose reports of starvation in two rural South Carolina counties helped touch off a Senate investigation of hunger in the nation has been hospitalized because of malnutrition.

Dr. Donald Gatch, a 38-year-old white physician from Bluffton, S.C., was listed in fair condition at Freedmen's Hospital. His doctor said, suffering as well from exhaustion and possibly intestinal worms.

Gatch's physician said his condition apparently was caused by overwork and resulting poor eating habits. He was admitted Saturday.

"The poor man has been working night and day," said a close friend of Gatch's. "Hundreds of Negroes over a three or five county area call him and he is the only white doctor in several counties who will treat them."

Gatch, a Nebraska native who moved to South Carolina 10 years ago, first touched off a storm of controversy in 1967 with his charges that children were dying of starvation and that families lived in huts worse than pigsties.

Although Beaufort County doctors scoffed at his statements, a team of doctors and scientists later reported that 73 per cent of 131 Negro pre-school children in the county were afflicted with parasites.

Gatch said he was ostracized by fellow doctors, received threatening phone calls and was boycotted by white patients.

An investigating committee headed by Sen. George McGovern, D-S.D., probed the conditions described by Gatch last month and triggered new free food stamp programs for the poor in Beaufort and neighboring Jasper County.

Gatch said he was beaten in his office two weeks ago by five young white men and that the alleged attack aggravated his weakened condition. He said he never reported the attack.

Pocket Radio Puzzled Ray Probers

By BERNARD GAVZER

Associated Press Writer
MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — In his flight from the scene of the Martin Luther King assassination James Earl Ray abandoned a pocket radio in a plastic case bearing his number as an inmate of the Missouri State penitentiary.

The meaning of the number eluded the authorities until weeks after Ray's capture last June 8 in London, it was disclosed Monday.

James Beasley of the Shelby County attorney general's staff said Ray dropped his rifle, a pair of binoculars and the case with the radio in it in a doorway near the rooming house from which he shot the Negro civil rights leader.

On the case was etched the number 00416 in numerals half an inch high. That was Ray's number at the Missouri prison, where he was serving 20 years for robbery when he escaped April 23, 1967.

The number was kept secret, but the FBI traced it to the penitentiary about a month after Ray was caught.

Warden Harold Swenson said Ray had bought the radio in the penitentiary canteen on April 21, 1967—two days before he got away. It cost $9.75. In accordance with prison practice, Ray etched his number on the case with an electric stylus to establish ownership.

Elsewhere there were these developments in the Ray case:

Russell X. Thompson of Memphis, a lawyer who said he had investigated the assassination, met in New York with attorneys of the Legal Defense and Educational Fund, Inc., of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Thompson said he had presented some new information about the slaying and there had been a discussion of whether it could be "raised to the dignity of evidence."

A group of about 250 students at the Southeast campus of Chicago City College ended their boycott Monday after settling six issues with college officials. The school had been closed by the boycott.

The protesters demanded more Negro students and teachers and more Negro-oriented courses. The school has 3,165 students, half of them Negro.

Pepperdine College in Los Angeles closed in observance of Wednesday's funeral of a Negro high school student killed by a shotgun blast on the campus last week. A campus security guard has been charged with suspicion of murder.

Police said they knew no motive for the slaying.

At the urging of many of the school's 300 Negro students, Pepperdine has agreed to provide college educations for the slain student's brother and sister and to pay for the funeral.

Pepperdine has 1,700 students. Students broke windows and overturned furniture in a cafeteria at the University of Houston after a Negro student leader reported he had been attacked by three white students in a campus parking lot.

School officials estimated the damage at $2,000. There were no arrests or injuries reported.

Negro students have been seeking an Afro-American studies program and admission of more Negro students.

Rutgers University closed its Newark, N.J. campus Monday to permit discussions of a plan adopted by university trustees to admit any high school graduate from the three cities where Rutgers has campuses: Newark, Camden and New Brunswick.

About 700 students heard a university vice president call the plan "absolutely revolutionary." A spokesman for the Black Organization of Students lauded it.

At the University of Idaho in Moscow, Idaho, about 3,000 students gave school president Ernest W. Hartung a cheering endorsement at a rally in the rain.

"We want Ernie . . . Ernie's our man," the crowd screamed in a show of support for Hartung's battle with state legislators for more funds.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP) It was a happy idea to bring together Broadway's two Dollies—Carol Channing and Pearl Bailey—for a merry, two-woman show.

The ABC special Sunday night was a glittering, tuneful combination of comedy and song. Miss Channing and Miss Bailey, whose styles are very different, complimented each other nicely.

Carol Channing was at her amusing best in an impression of Marlene Dietrich. Pearl Bailey shone in a solo singing spot studded with her characteristic, drawing interpolations. The least effective numbers were a group of songs first sung by men in assorted Broadway shows. They wound up, of course, in a duet of "Hello, Dolly!"—from the musical that they both have played for so long.

NBC used a late prime-time hour to broadcast a news department special showing the spread of Russian influence in the Mediterranean and the countries that line its coast.

It was a clamorous, thoughtful summary that hammered home the increasing importance of Soviet, and American ships and influence in the area, with the possibility of it leading to a major confrontation.

An ABC news program tonight will concentrate on three young people who are tackling some tough problems of our times and are actually making some headway.

The special, "Three Young Americans: In Search of Survival," focuses on a Philadelphia social worker, a conversationist working to preserve our wilderness areas and a marine conservationist working on water pollution problems.

Harold Haskins, the social worker who is a product of the Philadelphia slum area himself, was able to move one of the city's toughest gangs off the street and into a studio. He turned them into amateur film makers.

The project was so successful, it expanded into other business areas.

"What I wanted to do," said Haskins, "was give them something to think about after they got home. Recreation was great, but it was over when the basketball or football game was over."

N. Carolina Coach Fears Purdue Star

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rick Mount.

Those are the two words upmost in the mind of Dean Smith, basketball coach at North Carolina.

Mount is the Purdue star whose point production during the season carried the Boilermakers into the finals of the NCAA tournament which starts here Thursday.

North Carolina goes against Mount—and Purdue—in the first game at 7:30 p.m. and Smith admitted Monday he is worried about the prospect.

"I saw the last half of the Purdue-Marquette game and I know what Rick Mount can do," he said.

The Tar Heel coach added, "As a matter of fact, we knew what he could do before he went to Purdue—we tried to recruit him."

Smith didn't limit his praise to Mount alone. "I have to have great respect for a team (Purdue) that lost to UCLA by only 12 points on UCLA's floor." That game was played at the first of the season.

Defending champion UCLA, which defeated North Carolina for the NCAA title last year meets Drake in the second game Thursday night.

Smith also has some problems with his starting line-up to worry about. He has lost Dick Grubar with injuries.

"That means we have to adjust our pressure defense and the loss of Grubar will hurt," he said.

Smith said he will replace Grubar with Jim Delany. "We will lose five inches—Delany is 5-11."

Smith has one consolation though. Purdue will have to go without 7-foot center Chuck Bavis, who was injured in the recent Midwest Regional.

The Tar Heel coach also has a standpoint on his own to counter any prodigious output from Mount.

He is Olympian Charlie Scott, who scored 609 points for a 21.8 average during the season.

Mount scored more—810 for a 33.7 average—but Scott tumbled down more rebounds. He grabbed a total 201 compared to Mount's 82.

Wilt, Others Shooting 500 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — Big Will Chamberlain and seven other National Basketball Association marksmen are shooting better than 500 per cent from the floor going into the final week of the regular season.

Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Lakers' 7-foot-2 pivotman, ranks 18th in the scoring derby with 1,602 points—more than 600 behind front-runner Elvin Hayes of San Diego.

But Wilt's .581 percentage tops the league in field goal accuracy, according to the weekly figures released today and based on games through last Sunday. Chamberlain, who went 14-for-14 from the field in one game last week, moved up six percentage points over-all.

Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati, Willis Reed and Walt Frazier of New York, Terry Dischinger and Walt Bellamy of Detroit, Joe Caldwell of Atlanta and Tom Hawkins of Los Angeles also are over the 50 per cent mark. Last season, only four players finished that high.

Hayes, the Rockets' super rookie, has locked up the scoring title with 2,216 points in 77 games for a 28.8 average. Baltimore's Earl Monroe is the runner-up with 1,986 and a 25.8 per game mark.

Braves Swap Torre for Cepeda

By DICK COUCH

Associated Press Sports Writer Atlanta's Paul Richards insisted one stubborn catcher had more market value than "a bunch of donkeys." So he swapped Joe Torre even up for a Baby Bull.

The Braves dealt Torre, a disenchanted holdout, to the St. Louis Cardinals Monday night for first baseman Orlando Cepeda, the National League's most valuable player two years ago.

Torre, whose differences with General Manager Richards crystallized during the recent pension dispute, had been on the trading block all winter.

But the deal for Cepeda didn't unfold until the Braves broke off negotiations for a multi-player trade with the New York Mets Monday afternoon. Richards said the Mets killed the transaction by refusing to deal any established players.

"We're not going to give him (Torre) up for a bunch of donkeys," he said.

Three New York players reportedly offered to Atlanta—Amos Otis, Ed Kranepool and Bob Hulse—stroked successive singles in a two-run second inning flurry that sent the Mets to a 3-0 exhibition victory over the Braves.

Jim McAndrew and Don Cardwell combined to pitch a five-hitter as the Braves lost for the fourth time in their last five games.

Richie Scheinblum scored on Roland Sheldon's bases-loaded wild pitch in the 12th inning, pushing the Cleveland Indians past the Seattle B team 9-8 for their eighth straight victory.

Boog Powell's two-run homer snapped a sixth-inning tie and the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Chicago White Sox 3-1, extending their winning streak to seven games.

The Seattle varsity rallied for three runs in the ninth—two on a homer by non-roster player Merritt Ranew—and topped the Chicago Cubs 8-6. Wayne Granger allowed one hit over the last four innings as the Cincinnati Reds topped Washington 4-2, handing the Senators their 10th setback in 11 starts.

Denis Menk's double capped a two-run fourth inning burst that gave the Houston Astros a 3-1 nod over the Kansas City Royals.

The San Francisco Giants capitalized on two Oakland errors and a wild pitch and bled by John "Blue Moon" Odom on the way to a 6-1 victory over the Athletics.

Nate Oliver raced home on a sixth inning wild pitch by Leon Everitt, giving the New York Yankees a 2-1 nod over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Rain forced cancellation of the Pittsburgh-St. Louis, Montreal-Minnesota and Boston-Detroit games.

Celtics Think Foes Psyched for Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's defending National Basketball Association champions are mired in a sub-par regular season, but they figure they still have their foes "psyched out" for the playoffs.

"Psychologically they are all afraid of us in the playoffs—and rightly so," is the saying.

"If we jell as we have in the past, they're in trouble," he adds.

The past, of course, is one of glory for the Celtics, with 10 NBA titles in the last 12 years. The only losses were in 1957-58 to the St. Louis Hawks and in 1966-67 to the Philadelphia 76ers.

They bounced back after the latter loss to eliminate the heavily-favored 76ers last season and regain their title.

On paper things look tougher this time. Previous Boston teams were able to establish their superiority in the regular season as well—always finishing at or near the top in the Eastern Division.

This year they are relegated to fourth place, and could even surpass the team record of 36 losses in a season set in 1955-56.

Auerbach, however, figures the playoff magic still is there—especially if Player-Coach Bill Russell can keep the team from going stale this week while playing out the string in its last four regular season games.

closed within 55-50, Tennessee hit six straight free throws, four by Justus, and that wrapped up Tennessee's 20th triumph against six losses.

"We work on foul shooting quite a bit—at least 25 minutes a day," Mears said after his club hit 37-of-42 against Ohio. "We tried to draw fouls in the second half because we weren't shooting that well from the field." The Vols meet Temple in the semis Thursday night.

With the winners of tonight's games—Army against South Carolina and Louisville against Boston College—pairing off in the other semi, the final is Saturday afternoon.

Justus, who led the Southeastern Conference at the charity line with 90.7 per cent accuracy and was second in the country, dropped his first 18 free throws against Ohio, an NIT record, and finished with two more marks for most attempted and most made, 22-of-23.

He had half of his 34 points and seven of his game high 12 rebounds in the first half when the methodical, ball-control Vols built a 40-28 lead.

Monsanto Play Starts Again Today

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Britain and the United States should get together on the size of a golf ball, says South Africa's Gary Player.

"Golf is the only sport where you have a different sized ball," he said. "In football, baseball, basketball and all the other sports, the size of the ball is the same."

The 1961 Masters champion said it takes him awhile to get used to the size of America's larger golf ball.

But Player's period of adjustment has been brief, considering his performance in his first U.S. start this year, the $100,000 Monsanto Open.

Player opened the ruin-besieged Pensacola tournament with a 70 and came back with a 68 and a 65 on Saturday for a 54-hole total of 204. He is four shots back of leader Jim Colbert going into the twice-postponed final round scheduled for today.

Provisions were made or a split of 75 per cent of purse among the 17 contestants in the event the tournament could not be completed.

"I can't remember playing as well as I've played here in this tournament," said Player, who is looking for his first American victory since the 1955 U.S. Open. "I've only missed five greens," he added, "and my drives have been averaging 273 yards."

Player, 33, whose career earnings on the golf tour total nearly a half million dollars, said Life at the top has its drawbacks.

First Time for Gordon on New Club

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Joe Gordon has been hired, fired, rehired and traded as a manager but this is his first experience as boss of a brand new expansion club. The former star second baseman is enthused about his new job as boss of the Kansas City Royals.

"The owner (Ewing Kauffman) has done a great job promoting the club. They have sold over 7,500 season tickets. It may be up to 8,000 by now. He told people it is in his will that the club never will be sold to outside interests."

During Kansas City's previous tenure in the American League the club always was owned by outsiders. First it was the late Arnold Johnson who moved the team west from Philadelphia. Then it was Charlie Finley who stirred up a storm by moving to Oakland.

Kansas City was guaranteed an expansion franchise which was formally awarded to Kauffman, a leading businessman in the city. After one year without baseball, Kansas City is back in the majors again.

"I think this is going to be a pretty good club," said Gordon, whose last managing job was at Kansas City where he has fired by Finley in June of the 1961 season.

"We are young and inexperienced," said Gordon, "and we can only improve. There is a lot of talent here."

"Our philosophy has been to go young at the start. We drafted the best young players we could get. I also have some reports on players in the Pacific Coast League and other leagues."

"The only old player we picked was Hoyt Wilhelm. The Angels wanted him badly so we traded him for two young fellows—Dennis Paepke and Ed Kirkpatrick."

Gordon has been impressed by the way Pat Kelly, Steve Whitaker, Bob Oliver and Mike Flore handle a bat. He likes the speed of Jack Hernandez, Kelly and Flore. He has been impressed by the versatility of Kirkpatrick, who plays outfield, third, first or catches.

For first base, the Royals have Chuck Harrison, purchased from the Atlanta Braves after hitting 25 homers at Richmond, and Flore, who hit 19 homers and batted .271 for Baltimore's Rochester farm.

Paul Schaaf, coming back after a serious beating with the California Angels last year, and Jerry Adair, drafted from Boston, are the second basemen. Shortstop belongs to Hernandez who failed to hit at Minnesota last year. Joe Foy, regular third baseman on Boston's 1967 pennant club, probably will be at third.

Al Oliver, a .297 slugger with 20 homers and 93 RBI for Minnesota's Denver farm, can play the outfield or third base. Kelly, a .306 hitter at Denver, probably will be in center with George Spriggs, ex Pittsburgh Pirate, also available. Whitaker of the New York Yankee chain and Joe Keough, a good-looking rookie with the A's last summer, are in the outfield battle.

Paepke is battling with Jim Campanis, ex Los Angeles Dodger, and Eliseo Rodriguez, former Yankee, for the top catching spot. Hawk Taylor and Buddy Brooker, both ex New York Mets also are available.

The pitching rotation probably will find Roger Nelson, the No. 1 draft from Baltimore, Wally Bunker, another former Oriole, and Dave Morehead of the Red Sox as starters. Jim Rooker, picked off the Yanks who had just dealt with Detroit to get him, is another with a chance.

The relief corps includes Tom Burgmeier of the Angels, Steve Jones of Washington, Moe Drabowsky of the Orioles and Dick Drago of the Detroit organization, Larry Sherry, Calen Cisco and Chris Zachary, non-roster men, also are in the fight.

Fire Department
Sub-Station for Hope's Northside

The Star acknowledges receipt of a copy of the following letter written by George T. Frazier, president of Hope Chamber of Commerce, to Mayor Frank Douglas:

Dear Mayor Douglas: We hear a great deal these days about plans and programs dealing with the future growth of our city. They are good plans and we must all get behind our city officials and help to bring these programs to fruition.

There is one serious deficiency, however, in our city services which should be rectified as soon as funds can be found to do it. That important item is the construction, outfitting and manning of a fire department sub-station on the north side of the Missouri Pacific Railway Company mainline tracks.

We have seen the industrial area in this part of the city grow and grow over the years and now, the addition of Homestead Industries, Inc., will make it even more necessary that we provide these folks with more readily available fire fighting in case of need.

Too often we have watched our fire fighting equipment run up and down the south side of the tracks trying to get across to answer an alarm only to be forced finally to go to the underpass at Hervey to get across. The time lost in getting to the fire more often than not results in severe loss in what might have been minor, if the firemen could have been on it promptly.

Please give this request your earliest consideration and if the undersigned can be of any service to you and your Board of Directors, just let me know.

GEORGE T. FRAZIER,
President, Hope Chamber of Commerce
March 14, 1969
City

Your editor is inclined to go along with the Chamber's proposal. For years we have been advocating an alternate policy — to compel Missouri Pacific to co-operate in constructing additional grade-separations so fire engines and other traffic could bypass grade crossings when they are blocked, as they frequently are, by railroad switching operations.

Our one and only grade-separation is the underpass on Hervey St. (State Highway 4), built during World War II when Albert Graves was mayor. The only reason we got that one was because the city government caught the railroad in a "bind," Missouri Pacific needed to double-track its roadbed for switching purposes, and in return for this permit agreed to help build an underpass.

But there was a gentlemen's agreement at the time with two stipulations: (1) That the present wooden structure with a center pillar dividing the two traffic lanes would be replaced with a steel structure having no center support, just as soon as war-scarce steel became available; and (2) That in the future a second grade-separation would be constructed on the east side of town.

Neither of these stipulations has been carried out although 25 years have elapsed.

Today the grade-separation issue is clouded by the dispute between the City of Hope and the State Highway Commission over the town-route of State Highway 29 and the location of the grade-separation — probably an overpass — which will bypass the Missouri Pacific tracks.

In view of this controversy, and the possibility that the State Highway Commission will be compelled to relocate State 29 and its grade-separation away from the downtown area — a policy this newspaper supports — it may well be that the best thing for Hope is to build a fire department sub-station on the north side.

But we still think the City of Hope should press Missouri Pacific to carry out the two stipulations of the 1940s — rebuild the Hervey St. underpass with steel, and construct either an under- or overpass for the east side of town — regardless what happens to the State Highway 29 project.

Whether we build a second fire station or a second downtown grade-separation should de-

Legislative Nepotism Still Exists

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Legislative nepotism, which flourished to such an extent that it became a major issue in the 1968 governor's race, continues to exist today, but on a greatly reduced scale.

The family payroll plan of some legislators became a controversial matter last October when backers of Republican Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller made it known that Marion H. Crank, the Democratic nominee, had had five members of his family employed in legislative jobs.

Some observers contend that it was one of the key factors in Rockefeller's 30,000-vote victory over Crank.

An Associated Press check of payroll records in the auditor's office last October showed that officials with the same surname as 76 of the 100 House members appeared on the 1967 legislative payrolls.

A similar check of the records of the first nine weeks of the 1969 session showed that 14 spouses or children of House members and the wives of six senators received checks each week.

Records reflect only the initials and surnames of the recipients of payroll checks, but the warrant clerks of the House and Senate identified the persons and their relationship to legislators.

Following is a list of those who received checks each week, including their gross pay and relationship to a member.

Double Talk Drill — the More You Say It, the Less It's So

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — Spring is a good time to brush up on your double talk.

Our conversation tends to get a bit rusty during the long winter months, and if we're not careful we start saying things we really mean.

That, of course, can be socially disastrous. In our civilization only the very young and the very old are permitted to tell the truth at all times. The popularity of the rest of us depends largely on our skill at double talk, which is the art of saying one thing while thinking just the opposite.

Here are a few examples of double talk in ordinary life situations, followed by their hidden meanings.

"This is the best car on the lot. With proper care it could last you 10 years easy." — It will if you put it in the garage, jack it up, and leave it there.

Nixon Reportedly for Cutting Off U.S. Aid to Militant Students

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon reportedly favors cutting off federal aid to college students convicted of taking part in disorders, but would temper firmness with generosity in meeting the problems that lie at the roots of campus unrest.

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa, acting president of San Francisco State College, relayed Nixon's views Monday after conferring with the President. Nixon, at his news conference last week, had promised a detailed statement of his position by today.

About 800,000 college and university students receive federal grants and another 750,000 have bank notes signed by the government.

Hayakawa, whose campus has been a focal point for student disruptions, said he personally felt aid should be withdrawn only from students who have been expelled from school.

One government official pointed out Monday that federal aid money is given directly to the colleges, which in turn decide how to apportion it among the students and when to withdraw it.

Under two recent laws, the colleges must cut off aid to students convicted of disorders. They would be banned from receiving aid for two years, even if they were to transfer to another college.

Herman Allen, director of HEW's Bureau of Higher Education, said he knew of no cut-offs under either of the conviction rules. "We've had no report of anyone being convicted," he said, pointing out that the legal process of indictment and trial can take a long time.

MIAMI (AP) — Two airliners, one American and one Peruvian, have been hijacked to Cuba in the same day — the third sky piracy doubleheader of 1969.

A short, heavy set man about 25 showed a shoe box to a Delta Airlines stewardess on a flight between Atlanta and Augusta, Ga., Tuesday, said "It's a bomb" and "I want to go to Cuba."

The plane and the 64 aboard, including 60 passengers and a crew of four, went on to Havana's Jose Marti airport. Already there was a hijacked Faucett Airlines plane from Peru which had arrived less than three hours earlier.

These were the 19th and 20th aerial hijackings to Cuba this year, sending 1,042 persons on unscheduled flights to Fidel Castro's Communist island.

The Faucett jet was diverted on a flight from Lima to Arequipa by four young men who allowed 69 other passengers to leave the aircraft during a refueling stop at Guayaquil, Ecuador. The four then forced the crew of eight to fly them on to Havana.

Fighting Starts Again Along Suez

By DENNIS NEED
Associated Press Writer
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Egyptian and Israeli forces dueling along half the length of the Suez Canal for two hours today, Cairo radio reported.

The broadcast said Israeli forces opened fire at 11 a.m. on Port Taufiq and Suez.

It claimed the Egyptians wiped out the Israeli troops in action against them and destroyed their guns. There were no Egyptian casualties, the broadcast added.

The Egyptians reported Israeli gunfire succeeded only in starting a number of small fires in the city of Suez and these were brought under control.

Cairo radio claimed Israeli tank guns started the fighting. The flare-up followed sporadic firing which went on for 40 minutes earlier this morning.

Increase in Federal Reserve Discount Rate to Follow Bank Action

By STERLING F. GREEN
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — High government sources predicted privately today that Monday's move in interest rates by major banks may be followed shortly by an increase in the Federal Reserve discount rate.

This would mean a still further tightening of the credit screws. Many officials consider it both inevitable and—under the circumstances—desirable as an anti-inflationary measure.

Federal Reserve Board officials declined to comment on the possibility that the discount rate—the interest rate at which the 12 Federal Reserve banks make loans to commercial banks—might be boosted above the current 5½ per cent rate.

But action of major banks in raising to 7½ per cent the "prime rate"—the interest rate charged to their biggest and most creditworthy borrowers—has created a wide gap between the discount rate and the prime rate.

Not since 1968 has a similar 2-point spread developed between the two rates. The Reserve Board is considered most likely to narrow the gap, to prevent the possibility that banks will begin to make heavy borrowings from the Reserve banks to relend commercially, thereby profiting by the wide margin.

Hopes Russia, U.S. Can Talk on Arms Limit

GENEVA (AP) — President Nixon informed the 17-nation disarmament conference today the United States hopes to start talks with the Soviet Union in the near future on limiting anti-ballistic missile systems.

His remarks came in a six-point message to the first session of the talks after a seven-month recess.

Earlier the Soviet Union proposed to the session a treaty to ban all military installations, nuclear and nonnuclear, on the sea bed, the ocean floor and its subsoil.

The Soviet government rarely sends a public message to the talks that have been going on for seven years. Kosygin's statement indicates keen Russian interest in making new disarmament agreements with the United States.

U.S. officials have said that a sea bed treaty is the best bet for a new disarmament breakthrough and the two superpowers seem virtually agreed on the project.

But some nonaligned nations almost certainly will see this comparatively minor issue as an attempt by Moscow and Washington to force into the background more vital issues such as an underground nuclear test ban.

104 Forest Fires in State

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Forestry Department said Monday that more than 104 fires were reported over the weekend, destroying 1,736 acres of timber.

At least 25 fires were reported Monday, a department spokesman said. He said arson was suspected in several cases.

Marijuana Found on Youth

CROSSETT, Ark. (AP) — Ashley County Sheriff B. A. Courson said Monday that a 16-year-old Crossett High School student has been charged with possession of marijuana.

Courson said a cardboard carton was found with marijuana growing in it at the youth's home. The youth was released on $500 bond. A hearing was scheduled today in Circuit Court here.

UCLA Going After Third Nat'l Title

by DAN BERGER

Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Toward the end of the season, UCLA is in quest of its third straight national basketball title this week, and about the only things this year's team has in common with the past two are the big man and a great record.

Heading for Louisville at the NCAA final tournament, Coach John Wooden calls his 1969 team "quite different."

The three areas that are different are: stronger forwards, weaker guards and improved play by 7-foot-11/2 Alcindor, three times All-American and twice Player of the Year.

"We're changed because of the different style of our guards," Wooden says. "The guards we have now have done as well as we could expect. But it's not often you have a Mike Warren and a Lucius Allen."

Warren, the ball handler, and Allen, the playmaker, are gone but UCLA has used three men effectively to take their place.

Seniors Bill Sweek and Ken Heitz and junior collegetransfer John Valley have all played about equally.

"He's much stronger now and it's easier for him to do the things he has to do. His maneuverability for a big man has always amazed me and now he's even more mobile. And he's not a selfish individual. He is dedicated to the total effort of the team."

Says Alcindor: "When you're stronger, you don't have to work as hard and I'm more relaxed on the court now. Also, that jump shot from the side has helped my game. If I'm hitting that shot, I can move in and out and open things up for the rest of the team."

Rebounding hasn't been much of a task for Lew this year as in the two seasons previous because he's gotten help from two talented sophomore forwards. In 1968, Lew wound up with an average of 16.8 rebounds per game — 31.4 per cent of all UCLA grabbed. This season, Alcindor had a game average of only 14.4 and 28.8 per cent.

Curtis Rowe, at 6-6 1/2, and Sid Wicks, 6-8, leap like high jumpers and have averaged 7.7 and 5.6 rebounds per game respectively.

John Wooden's teams of past championship years have been relatively small but played together as a well-knit team. In the Walt Hazzard-Gall Goodrich era.

"I think this season we've had a pretty good spirit of cooperation and teamwork throughout even though I've juggled play-ers quite a bit," Wooden says. "I finally came down to the determining factor that I wanted eight that I could rely on. And that makes it tough on players because they all want to start."

Even with all this wealth of material, Wooden expected it to be a difficult coaching year, explaining:

"I knew it was going to be one of the most pressure-packed years we've had. 'Not knowing how the young-er players would react to that pressure was on my mind and I was wondering if the older players would still be hungry. 'I felt the winning streak probably would be broken. I didn't know just where or when, but to be honest with you, I didn't think it would be broken at our Pauley Pavilion. 'I was surprised we went undefeated as long as he did.'"

After finishing the 1967-68 season with 16 straight victories, the Bruins won 25 in a row this campaign before bowing to Southern California's ball control 46-44 in the regular season finale.

Then the Bruins sweep through New Mexico State and Santa Clara in the NCAA Western regionals.

New to Arkansas

ROADRUNNER

Though a newcomer to Arkansas, the roadrunner now is found in all sections of the state. In some areas he is known as a "chaparral cock" and in others as the "pisanano." By whatever name he is called, this interesting bird is highly beneficial to man and is protected by state law. The roadrunner feeds mostly on grasshoppers and other insects, but he frequently dines on poisonous scorpions, centipedes, tarantulas, lizards, mice, and small snakes. When food is scarce in winter months, he may eat an occasional bird, but the good he does far outweighs the bad.

Christian Church Guest Speaker

Mrs. J. Warren Hastings will be the guest speaker at the First Christian Church in Hope at 10:50 a.m. Sunday, March 23, at the Morning Worship Service. She is National Director of Interpretive Service for Unified Promotion, channel for unified outreach of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ). In this capacity she visits churches, speaks in conventions, and works with planning groups as a resource person.

MRS. HASTINGS

She has been on the Unified Promotion staff since March 1, 1961. Her husband, the late J. Warren Hastings, was for eighteen years, pastor of the National City Christian Church, Washington, D.C., and she herself has been an ordained minister since 1961.

A native of Lynchburg, Va., and a graduate of Lynchburg College, Mrs. Hastings holds the M.A. Degree from Yale University, and has studied at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Mrs. Hastings makes her home in Indianapolis, Ind. and works out of the Unified Promotion office there. She has had engagements in Arkansas churches each day this week, and will conclude her visit with the one here Sunday morning, followed by another in Little Rock at 2:30 p.m. and one in N. Little Rock at 7 p.m.

Rev. James Rainwater, Little Rock, Executive Minister of Arkansas Christian Churches and Mrs. Rainwater, will be accompanying Mrs. Hastings to Hope.

Everyone is invited to attend the Morning Service and Hear this dynamic speaker.

Braves Tried to Deal With Mets for Months

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Atlanta Braves dickered with the New York Mets for four months trying to trade Joe Torre away. When they turned their attention to the St. Louis Cardinals, it only took four hours to make the deal.

The Braves swapped Torre, a catcher-first baseman, to St. Louis Monday night in exchange for Orlando Cepeda, the first baseman who was the unanimous choice as the Most Valuable Player in the National League two seasons ago.

Paul Richards, executive vice president of the Braves, has carried on a running verbal feud with Torre, a holdout and one of the leaders of the recent player pension boycott. But he wasn't prepared to unload Torre without getting value for him and that was what turned him away from the Mets and to the Cardinals.

He said the trade for Cepeda was consummated after three or four hours of haggling. Other names were mentioned, Richards said, but it boiled down to a one-for-one swap.

Bing Devine, general manager of the Cardinals, said the trade would allow the National League champions to give rookie Joe Hagie more of a chance at first base than he would have had with Cepeda on the club.

Chamber of Commerce Making Labor Survey

The Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is undertaking a labor survey of the area in an effort to determine the availability of labor for existing industries and any new industry that could be locating within the area during the next few months.

They are asking that if you have people or friends who live and work away from Hope but would like to return to please clip and send this form to them or pick up a form at the Chamber of Commerce office, or from one of the Jaycees, at both Banks and the Hope Federal Savings & Loan Association.

Completed forms will be returned to the Chamber of Commerce office and the information will be made available to those having use for it.

"Availability of labor is of prime importance in keeping our existing industries going full force and the establishment of new ones," said

Mr. George Frazier, Chamber of Commerce president, "and we trust that we will have the full cooperation of the citizens of Hope and Hempstead County in this project."

N. Carolina Coach Fears Purdue Star

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Rick Mount.

These are the two words upmost in the mind of Dean Smith, basketball coach at North Carolina.

Mount is the Purdue star whose point production during the season carried the Boilermakers into the finals of the NCAA tournament which starts here Thursday.

North Carolina goes against Mount—and Purdue—in the first game at 7:30 p.m. and Smith admitted Monday he is worried about the prospect.

"I saw the last half of the Purdue-Marquette game and I know what Rick Mount can do," he said.

The Tar Heel coach added, "As a matter of fact, we knew what he could do before he went to Purdue—we tried to recruit him."

Smith didn't limit his praise to Mount alone. "I have to have great respect for a team (Purdue) that lost to UCLA by only 12 points on UCLA's floor." That game was played at the first of the season.

Defending champion UCLA, which defeated North Carolina for the NCAA title last year meets Drake in the second game Thursday night.

Smith also has some problems with his starting line-up to worry about. He has lost Dick Grubar with injuries.

"That means we have to adjust our pressure defense and the loss of Grubar will hurt," he said.

Smith said he will replace Grubar with Jim Delany. "We will lose five inches—Delany is 5-11."

Smith has one consolation though. Purdue will have to go without 7-foot center Chuck Davis, who was injured in the recent Midwest Regional.

The Tar Heel coach also has a standout on his own to counter any prodigious output from Mount.

He is Olympian Charlie Scott, who scored 609 points for a 21.8 average during the season.

Mount scored more—810 for a 33.7 average—but Scott hauled down more rebounds. He grabbed a total 201 compared to Mount's 82.

Wilt, Others Shooting 500 Per Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — Big Wilt Chamberlain and seven other National Basketball Association marksmen are shooting better than 500 per cent from the floor going into the final week of the regular season.

Chamberlain, the Los Angeles Lakers' 7-foot-2 pivotman, ranks 18th in the scoring derby with 1,602 points—more than 600 behind front-runner Elvin Hayes of San Diego.

But Wilt's .581 percentage tops the league in field goal accuracy, according to the weekly figures released today and based on games through last Sunday. Chamberlain, who went 14-for-14 from the field in one game last week, moved up six percentage points over all.

Jerry Lucas of Cincinnati, Willis Reed and Walt Frazier of New York, Terry Dischinger and Walt Bellamy of Detroit, Joe Caldwell of Atlanta and Tom Hawkins of Los Angeles also are over the 50 per cent mark. Last season, only four players finished that high.

Hayes, the Rockets' super rookie, has locked up the scoring title with 2,216 points in 77 games for a 28.8 average. Baltimore's Earl Monroe is the runner-up with 1,986 and a 25.8 per-game mark.

Braves Swap Torre for Cepeda

By DICK COUCH
Associated Press Sports Writer
Atlanta's Paul Richards insisted one stubborn catcher had more market value than "a bunch of donkeys." So he swapped Joe Torre even up for a Baby Bull.

The Braves dealt Torre, a disenchanted holdout, to the St. Louis Cardinals Monday night for first baseman Orlando Cepeda, the National League's most valuable player two years ago.

Torre, whose differences with General Manager Richards crystallized during the recent pension dispute, had been on the trading block all winter.

But the deal for Cepeda didn't unfold until the Braves broke off negotiations for a multi-player trade with the New York Mets Monday afternoon.

Richards said the Mets killed the transaction by refusing to deal any established players.

"We're not going to give him (Torre) up for a bunch of donkeys," he said.

Three New York players reportedly offered to Atlanta—Amos Otis, Ed Kranepool and Bob Heise—stroked successive singles in a two-run second inning flurry that sent the Mets to a 3-0 exhibition victory over the Braves.

Jim McAndrew and Don Cardwell combined to pitch a five-hitter as the Braves lost for the fourth time in their last five games.

Richie Scheinblum scored on Roland Sheldon's bases-loaded wild pitch in the 12th inning, pushing the Cleveland Indians past the Seattle B team 9-8 for their eighth straight victory.

Boog Powell's two-run homer snapped a sixth-inning tie and the Baltimore Orioles trimmed the Chicago White Sox 3-1, extending their winning streak to seven games.

The Seattle varsity rallied for three runs in the ninth—two on a homer by non-roster player Merritt Ranew—and topped the Chicago Cubs 8-6. Wayne Granger allowed one hit over the last four innings as the Cincinnati Reds topped Washington 4-2, handing the Senators their 10th setback in 11 starts.

Denis Menk's double capped a two-run fourth inning burst that gave the Houston Astros a 3-1 nod over the Kansas City Royals. The San Francisco Giants capitalized on two Oakland errors and a wild pitch and bled by John "Blue Moon" Odom on the way to a 6-1 victory over the Athletics.

Nate Oliver raced home on a sixth inning wild pitch by Leon Everett, giving the New York Yankees a 2-1 nod over the Los Angeles Dodgers.

Rain forced cancellation of the Pittsburgh-St. Louis, Montreal-Minnesota and Boston-Detroit games.

Not One to Look Gift Horse in the Mouth

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Bill Justus isn't one to look a gift horse in the mouth, and maybe that's why he eats a little better than the rest of the Tennessee basketball team.

At 6-foot-1 and 175 pounds, Justus doesn't look like he has an enormous appetite. But when Coach Ray Mears started offering free steaks for free throws, Justus took him up on it, and now he has knife and forked the Vols into the semifinals of the National Invitation Tournament.

"In preseason practice the coach buys you a steak dinner if you 30 free throws in a row twice in one week."

Explained Justus after the Vols gobbled up Ohio U. 75-64 Monday night in the quarter-finals.

"I think he still owes me one from last fall."

The crowd at Madison Square Garden, which first saw John Baum lead Temple past scrappy St. Peter's 94-78, must be thinking Mears owes Justus another sirloin, about 25 ounces, after his record-breaking free throw performance.

Justus, who led the Southeastern Conference at the charity line with 90.7 per cent accuracy and was second in the country, dropped his first 18 free throws against Ohio, an NIT record, and finished with two more marks for most attempted and most made, 22-of-23.

He had half of his 34 points and seven of his game high 12 rebounds in the first half when the methodical, ball-control Vols built a 40-28 lead.

Monsanto Play Starts Again Today

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP) — Britain and the United States should get together on the size of a golf ball, says South Africa's Gary Player.

"Golf is the only sport where you have a different sized ball," he said. "In football, baseball, basketball and all the other sports, the size of the ball is the same."

The 1961 Masters champion said it takes him awhile to get used to the size of America's larger golf ball.

But Player's period of adjustment has been brief, considering his performance in his first U.S. start this year, the $100,000 Monsanto Open.

Player opened the ruin-sieged Pensacola tournament with a 70 and came back with a 68 and a 65 on Saturday for a 54-hole total of 204. He is four shots back of leader Jim Colbert going into the twice-postponed final round scheduled for today.

Provisions were made or a split of 75 per cent of purse among the 17 contestants in the event the tournament could not be completed.

"I can't remember playing as well as I've played here in this tournament," said Player, who is looking for his first American victory since the 1965 U.S. Open. "I've only missed five greens," he added, "and my drives have been averaging 273 yards."

Player, 33, whose career earnings on the golf tour total nearly a half million dollars, said life at the top has its drawbacks.

Celtics Think Foes Psyched for Playoffs

BOSTON (AP) — Boston's defending National Basketball Association champions are mired in a sub-par regular season, but they figure they still have their foes "psyched out" for the playoffs.

"Psychologically they are all afraid of us in the playoffs—and rightly so," is the saying.

"If we jell as we have in the past, they're in trouble," he adds.

The past, of course, is one of glory for the Celtics, with 10 NBA titles in the last 12 years. The only losses were in 1957-58 to the St. Louis Hawks and in 1966-67 to the Philadelphia 76ers.

They bounced back after the latter loss to eliminate the heavily-favored 76ers last season and regain their title.

On paper things look tougher this time. Previous Boston teams were able to establish their superiority in the regular season as well—always finishing at or near the top in the Eastern Division.

This year they are relegated to fourth place, and could even surpass the team record of 36 losses in a season set in 1955-56.

Auerbach, however, figures the playoff magic still is there—especially if Player-Coach Bill Russell can keep the team from going stale this week while playing out the string in its last four regular season games.

closed within 55-50, Tennessee hit six straight free throws, four by Justus, and that wrapped up Tennessee's 20th triumph against six losses.

"We work on foul shooting quite a bit—at least 25 minutes a day," Mears said after his club hit 37-of-42 against Ohio. "We tried to draw fouls in the second half because we weren't shooting that well from the field."

The Vols meet Temple in the semis Thursday night with the winners of tonight's games—Army against South Carolina and Louisville against Boston College—pairing off in the other semi. The final is Saturday afternoon.

"I think this is going to be a pretty good club," said Gordon, whose last managing job was at Kansas City where he has been fired by Finley in June of the 1961 season.

First Time for Gordon on New Club

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP) — Joe Gordon has been hired, fired, rehired and traded as a manager but this is his first experience as boss of a brand new expansion club. The former star second baseman is enthused about his new job as boss of the Kansas City Royals.

"The owner (Ewing Kauffman) has done a great job promoting the club. They have sold over 7,500 season tickets. It may be up to 8,000 by now. He told people it is in his will that the club never will be sold to outside interests."

During Kansas City's previous tenure in the American League the club always was owned by outsiders. First it was the late Arnold Johnson who moved the team west from Philadelphia. Then it was Charlie Finley who stirred up a storm by moving to Oakland.

Kansas City was guaranteed an expansion franchise which was formally awarded to Kauffman, a leading businessman in the city. After one year without baseball, Kansas City is back in the majors again.

"I think this is going to be a pretty good club," said Gordon, whose last managing job was at Kansas City where he has been fired by Finley in June of the 1961 season.

"We are young and inexperienced," said Gordon, "and we enced," said Gordon, "and we can only improve. There is a lot of talent here."

"Our philosophy has been to go young at the start. We drafted the best young players we could get. I also has some reports on players in the Pacific Coast League and other leagues."

"The only old player we picked was Hoyt Wilhelm. The Angels wanted him badly so we traded him for two young fellows—Dennis Paepke and Ed Kirkpatrick."

Gordon has been impressed by the way Pat Kelly, Steve Whitaker, Bob Oliver and Mike Fiore handle a bat. He likes the speed of Jack Hernandez, Kelly and Fiore. He has been impressed by the versatility of Kirkpatrick, who plays outfield, third, first or catches.

For first base, the Royals have Chuck Harrison, purchased from the Atlanta Braves after hitting 25 homers at Richmond, and Fiore, who hit 19 homers and batted .271 for Baltimore's Rochester farm.

Paul Schaaf, coming back after a serious beating with the California Angels last year, and Jerry Adair, drafted from Boston, are the second basemen. Shortstop belongs to Hernandez who failed to hit at Minnesota last year. Joe Foy, regular third baseman on Boston's 1967 pennant club, probably will be at third.

Al Oliver, a .297 slugger with 20 homers and 93 RBI for Minnesota's Denver farm, can play the outfield or third base. Kelly, a .306 hitter at Denver, probably will be in center with George Spriggs, ex Pittsburgh Pirate, also available. Whitaker of the New York Yankee chain and Joe Keough, a good-looking rookie with the A's last summer, are in the outfield battle.

Paepke is battling with Jim Campanis, ex Los Angeles Dodger, and Eliseo Rodriguez, former Yankee, for the top catching spot. Hawk Taylor and Buddy Brooker, both ex New York Mets also are available.

The pitching rotation probably will find Roger Nelson, the No. 1 draft from Baltimore, Wally Bunker, another former Oriole, and Dave Morehead of the Red Sox as starters. Jim Rooker, picked off the Yanks who had just dealt with Detroit to get him, is another with a chance.

The relief corps includes Tom Burgmeier of the Angels, Steve Jones of Washington, Moe Drabowsky of the Orioles and Dick Drago of the Detroit organization, Larry Sherry, Calen Cisco and Chris Zachary, non-roster men, also are in the fight.

UCLA Going After Third Nat'l Title

by DAN BERGER
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOS ANGELES (AP) — Toweling Lew Alcindor leads UCLA in quest of its third straight national basketball title this week, and about the only things this year's team has in common with the past two are the big man and a great record.
Heading for Louisville at the NCAA final tournament, Coach John Wooden calls his 1969 team "quite different."
The three areas that are different are: stronger forwards, weaker guards and improved play by 7-foot-1½ Alcindor, three times All-American and twice Player of the Year.
"We're changed because of the different style of our guards," Wooden says. "The guards we have now have done as well as we could expect. But it's not often you have a Mike Warren and a Lucius Allen."
Warren, the ball handler, and Allen, the playmaker, are gone but UCLA has used three men effectively to take their place.
Seniors Bill Sweek and Ken Heltz and junior college transfer John Vallely have all played about equally.
"He's much stronger now and it's easier for him to do the things he has to do. His maneuverability for a big man has always amazed me and now he's even more mobile. And he's not a selfish individual. He is dedicated to the total effort of the team."
Says Alcindor: "When you're stronger, you don't have to work as hard and I'm more relaxed on the court now. Also, that jump shot from the side has helped my game. If I'm hitting that shot, I can move in and out and open things up for the rest of the team."
Rebounding hasn't been much of a task for Lew this year as in the two seasons previous because he's gotten help from two talented sophomore forwards.
In 1968, Lew wound up with an average of 16.8 rebounds per game — 31.4 per cent of all UCLA grabbed. This season, Alcindor had a game average of only 14.4 and 28.8 per cent.
Curtis Rowe, at 6-6½, and Sid Wicks, 6-8, leap like high jumpers and have averaged 7.7 and 5.6 rebounds per game respectively.
John Wooden's teams of past championship years have been relatively small but played together as a well-knit team a la the Walt Hazzard-Gail Goodrich era.
"I think this season we've had a pretty good spirit of cooperation and teamwork throughout even though I've juggled play-ers quite a bit," Wooden says. "I finally came down to the determining factor that I wanted eight that I could rely on. And that makes it tough on players because they all want to start."
Even with all this wealth of material, Wooden expected it to be a difficult coaching year, explaining:
"I knew it was going to be one of the most pressure-packed year's we've had.
"Not knowing how the young-er players would react to that pressure was on my mind and I was wondering if the older players would still be hungry."
"I felt the winning streak probably would be broken. I didn't know just where or when, but to be honest with you, I didn't think it would be broken at our Pauley Pavilion."
"I was surprised we went undefeated as long as we did."
After finishing the 1967-68 season with 16 straight victories, the Bruins won 25 in a row this campaign before bowing to Southern California's ball con-trol 46-44 in the regular sea-son finale.
Then the Bruins sweep through New Mexico State and Santa Clara in the NCAA West-ern regionals.

New to Arkansas

ROADRUNNER

Though a newcomer to Arkansas, the roadrunner now is found in all sections of the state. In some areas he is known as a "chaparral cock" and in others as the "pisanos." By whatever name he is called, this interesting bird is highly beneficial to man and is protected by state law. The roadrunner feeds mostly on grasshoppers and other insects, but he frequently dines on poisonous scorpions, centipedes, tarantulas, lizards, mice, and small snakes. When food is scarce in winter months, he may eat an occasional bird, but the good he does far outweighs the bad.

Claims No Time to Reach Pueblo

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy's top Pacific officer at the time says U.S. planes and ships would have tried to rescue the USS Pueblo if they could have reached the intelligence ship before North Koreans got it inside Wonsan Harbor.
Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp told a House Armed Service subcommittee Monday he drew the line at entering the harbor because "you have to be concerned about how many wars you want to get into at one time."
Sharp, who retired last July 31 after four years as commander in chief, Pacific, said the carrier Enterprise was about 600 miles from the Pueblo and its planes could not have reached the Pueblo in time to be of assistance on Jan. 23, 1968. The admiral testified he had concurred in the decision not to send planes from the carrier.
He said if U.S. planes or ships had been close enough they would have penetrated the 12-mile territorial limit of North Korea up to Wonsan Harbor.

Christian Church Guest Speaker

Mrs. J. Warren Hastings will be the guest speaker at the First Christian Church in Hope at 10:50 a.m. Sunday, March 23, at the Morning Worship Service. She is National Director of Interpretive Service for Unified Promotion, channel for unified outreach of Christian Churches (Disciples of Christ). In this capacity she visits churches, speaks in conventions, and works with planning groups as a resource person.

MRS. HASTINGS

She has been on the Unified Promotion staff since March 1, 1961.
Her husband, the late J. Warren Hastings, was for eighteen years, pastor of the National City Christian Church, Washington, D.C., and she herself has been an ordained minister since 1961.
A native of Lynchburg, Va., and a graduate of Lynchburg College, Mrs. Hastings holds the M.A. Degree from Yale University, and has studied at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland.

Mrs. Hastings makes her home in Indianapolis, Ind. and works out of the Unified Promotion office there. She has had engagements in Arkansas churches each day this week, and will conclude her visit with the one here Sunday morning, followed by another in Little Rock at 2:30 p.m. and one in N. Little Rock at 7 p.m.

Rev. James Rainwater, Little Rock, Executive Minister of Arkansas Christian Churches and Mrs. Rainwater, will be accompanying Mrs. Hastings to Hope.
Everyone is invited to attend the Morning Service and Hear this dynamic speaker.

Chamber of Commerce Making Labor Survey

The Hope-Hempstead County Chamber of Commerce with the cooperation of the Junior Chamber of Commerce is undertaking a labor survey of the area in an effort to determine the availability of labor for existing industries and any new industry that could be locating within the area during the next few months.
They are asking that if you have people or friends who live and work away from Hope but would like to return to please clip and send this form to them or pick up a form at the Chamber of Commerce office, or from one of the Jaycees, at both Banks and the Hope Federal Savings & Loan Association.
Completed forms will be returned to the Chamber of Commerce office and the information will be made available to those having use for it.
"Availability of labor is of prime importance in keeping our existing industries going full force and the establishment of new ones," said Mr. George Frazier, Chamber of Commerce president, "and we trust that we will have the full cooperation of the citizens of Hope and Hempstead County in this project."

Braves Tried to Deal With Mets for Months

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The Atlanta Braves dickered with the New York Mets for four months trying to trade Joe Torre away. When they turned their attention to the St. Louis Cardinals, it only took four hours to make the deal.

The Braves swapped Torre, a catcher-first baseman, to St. Louis Monday night in exchange for Orlando Cepeda, the first baseman who was the unanimous choice as the Most Valuable Player in the National League two seasons ago.

Paul Richards, executive vice president of the Braves, has carried on a running verbal feud with Torre, a holdout and one of the leaders of the recent player pension boycott. But he wasn't prepared to unload Torre without getting value for him and that was what turned him away from the Mets and to the Cardinals.

He said the trade for Cepeda was consummated after three or four hours of haggling. Other names were mentioned, Richards said, but it boiled down to a one-for-one swap.

Bing Devine, general manager of the Cardinals, said the trade would allow the National League champions to give rookie Joe Hagge more of a chance at first base than he would have had with Cepeda on the club.

HOPE NEWSPAPER HISTORY:
The 1929 consolidation joined the two principal newspaper lines dating back to within five years of Hope's incorporation in 1875.

1899—Star of Hope founded as a weekly by Claude Mc-Corkle; converted to an evening daily by his son, Ed. McCorkle, publishing until the 1929 consolidation.

The opposition line:
1880—Hope News founded by Lowry Brothers.

1883—Sold to Withers & Johnson, name changed to Hope Telegraph.

1883—Later in same year resold to Claude McCorkle and renamed Hope Mercury.

1884—Sold to James H. Betts, who named it Hope Gazette, under which name it was published continuously until 1922, published by Betts, J.L. Tullis, and Col. W.W.
Folsom the last-named dying in 1916.

1916—Purkins & Gates bought the weekly Gazette and made it a companion paper to their new daily, Arkansas Evening Herald
—but both papers suspended in 1922.

1926—Plant was revived by Curtis Cannon as the weekly
Hempstead County Review.

1927—Cannon sold plant to D.A. Gean, who established the morning Hope Daily Press.

1929—C.E. Palmer and A.H.

Laboratory Tests Provide Vital Data

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.

Q—When I went to the hospital, I was given a slip that said "Laboratory—CBC and Hb." What does this mean?

A—A complete blood count
(CBC), which includes a red cell count, a white cell count and a determination of the percentage of the various types of white cells, and a hemoglobin (Hb) level.

Q—What causes neutropenia and secondary anemia? What will happen if your white blood cell count is too low?

A—Neutropenia is an abnormally low number of neu-trophilic white cells in the blood. It may be associated with anemia, certain infectious diseases (typhoid, undulant fever, influenza, measles and malaria) or the use of such drugs as benzol, amidopyrine, sulfonamides, thi-ouracil, arsenic, gold salts and nitrogen mustard. Secondary anemia is a loss of blood from hemorrhage or a source of slow chronic bleeding.

A low white cell count is accompanied by the symptoms of the disease that causes it. When it is due to poisoning by various drugs, the only manifestation is a lowered resistance to infection and a greater risk of a fatal outcome.

Q—I have heard that some people receive transfusions of five to seven pints of blood during and after an operation. Where does all this blood go?

A—it usually goes to replace blood that has been lost. But the blood vessels are sufficiently elastic to accommodate a temporary increase in volume and in time the blood volume regulating mechanism of the body would bring the volume back within the usual limits.

Q—I have been taking the anticoagulant, Coumadin, for six years. Is there any danger in taking this drug for a long period?

A—Anyone who is taking this or any other anticoagulant should have a prothrombin test every two or three weeks to make sure his blood-clotting power does not fall to a dangerous level. If

NEA Automotive Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—For
the most part, whenever an automobile finds itself in the movies, it is depicted more as a necessary plot device or transportation for the leading man than as the star of the show.

Which is certainly all right. No big deal, the car is just there. On occasion, however, the car actually becomes the central character.
Remember "The Yellow
Rolls-Royce"? And "A Man and a Woman"?

When that isn't enough,
Hollywood turns to racing and cranks out such superlative films as "Grand Prix"

GIRD YOURSELVES, FANS, Walt Disney's version of racing is coming your way. It's "The Love Bug" and stars the fastest VW in the world, Buddy Hackett, Michele Lee and Dean Jones. Arggh.

and those old Mickey Rooney-James Cagney-Clark Gable stinkers and hot rod epics.

Get ready for the next glut of car flicks. First on the silver screen is a bit of Walt Disney whimsy called "The Love Bug." It's all about this little car with soul, see, and it competes in phony cross-country races and "Formula Libre" deals at Riverside.

The car is a Volkswagen back a diamond. South took his ace and had one last chance to make his contract. He played his ace of trumps but the king did not drop and he was down one.

"Why didn't you just raise me to three no-trump?"
asked North. "I had a 100
honors in spades," replied South, who evidently had overlooked his 150 aces.

North gave up further attempts at conversation and started to deal, but we have a few comments. To start with, South might well have opened two no-trump. He certainly should have been happy to raise to three no-trump when his partner responded.

Most important, South should have made four spades without any trouble.
He had nine easy tricks. The best way to make 10 would have been to win the heart lead in his own hand and play the ace and queen of diamonds. This would establish dummy's jack of diamonds as his 10th trick.

The late George Kaufman was talking about a certain bridge player. George said,
"There are two ways you can tell when he has a good hand. First his face lights up. Then he misplays it."

South might well have been that man. He sorted his cards and thundered out his one-spade bid. His four-spade call was equally firm but there was disappointment in his voice. He had hoped for a slam.

He won the heart lead in his own hand, thought awhile and played ace and eight of clubs. If West had produced the king, South would have had a parking place for his third heart but East had the king. Back came a second heart and South was in mond finesse. That lost also.

Agriculture Extension Service Training Course in Hempstead

— Delores McBride photos with Star Camera

Seventy-nine leaders and Home Economics students representing eight counties in area are pictured attending clothing workshop at Post Office Conference Room in Hope Monday presented by Miss Marlene Ressler, Simplicity Pattern Company 4-H Club

Stylist. Training was arranged by the Agricultural Extension Service to help leaders with ideas and methods of teaching construction techniques, wardrobe planning, accessories, and poise. Leaders will share training to improve local clothing projects. Local leaders attending include: Maxine Green, Katie Green, Mamie Sanders, Mrs. Truman Arrington, Mrs. Roscoe Bowden, Mrs. Woodrow Baker, Mrs. W.F. Lively, Mrs. L. K. Boyce, Mrs. Audrey Keith, Mrs. William Schooley, Mrs. M.S. Willis, Mrs. A.C. Kirby, Mrs. Dexter Alford, Mrs. Ivan Bright, Mrs. Ernie Briggs, Mrs. C.L. Roberts, Mrs. Mary Keys, Frances Arnold, Mrs. Homer Polindexter, Alphonso Denham, and Dolores McBride.

Miss Marlene Ressler, 4-H Club Stylist, illustrates coordinating wardrobe to leaders in Hope area. The stylist has assisted with some eight district workshops throughout Arkansas during the past two weeks.

Local homemakers shown illustrations of different grades and cuts of meat. The Extension Office has extra leaflets available for those unable to attend because of conflicts and sickness.

Blevins Home Economics students are pictured assisting with Clothing Training on accessories for various occasions. Left to right: Evelyn Shaw, Jo Ann Clendenen, Janie Askew, Joyce Crawley, Lois Strong, Patricia Webb, Judy Kidd, Mary Ann Carman, Carol Walters, Sue Rogers, Cathy Montgomery, Miss Marlene Ressler, Simplicity Pattern Company 4-H Club Stylist. Mrs. Jamie Steed, Blevins Home Economics Instructor, attended with 27 home economics students.

Some cattlemen and working homemakers attended a night session, Miss Sandra Brookover, USDA Consumer Specialist,

Washington, D.C., brought marketing tips to the consumers for getting the most from the meat dollar. The meeting was sponsored by the Hempstead County Agricultural Extension Service and Hempstead County Cattlemen's Association.

President Gains Some, Still Resisted

By G. C. THELEN JR.
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon picked up 10 supporters in the Senate with his revised Sentinel missile defense system, but barely denied the hardcore opposition that remains within striking distance of a majority at 44 votes.

An Associated Press poll conducted since Nixon unveiled his $8 billion to $7-billion antiballistic missile (ABM) system Friday shows 44 against, 35 for and 21 uncommitted. This compares with an earlier survey that showed 47 votes against the system suggested by former President Johnson, 25 for and 28 uncommitted.

Nixon's program, costing up to a billion and a half dollars more than Johnson's, is intended to protect the nation's deterrent missile and bomber forces. Johnson's system was designed to protect major cities.

Although Nixon weaned three votes away from the opposition, only one actually crossed into the President's camp.

The uncommitted bloc likely will provide the battleground as the two sides head for a final vote on Sentinel funds, probably in two months.

Nixon has predicted that vote will be close and the Pentagon and the White House are preparing a 1985 campaign in the Senate.

One Senate source said Nixon has reversed the momentum building in Congress against the missile system.

"But don't forget," he said, "that this can be easily reversed because there are impressive figures in the Senate like Kennedy, Gore, Fulbright and Mansfield who can be counted on to do a lot of arm waving against the ABM," he adds.

Republican Edward W. Brooke of Massachusetts, a former opponent now uncommitted, says he remains skeptical of the ABM but is "open to persuasion."

"I wouldn't have voted for the Johnson system," says Republican Sen. George D. Aiken of Vermont, the other former opponent who also is uncommitted. "The deployment of missile radar sites around big cities would be a disaster. But the Nixon proposal is substantially different."

Sen. Hugh Scott, the Republican Whip from Pennsylvania, has come full circle from opposition to the Johnson Sentinel system to support of the Nixon "safeguard" modification.

The party breakdown of the senators committed for or against is: 32 Democrats and 12 Republicans against Sentinel, 16 Democrats and 19 Republicans for.

economical steak cuts such as blade chuch and round into tender and less tender portions, allowing her to buy tender portions economically, Miss Brookover assists consumers throughout the nation in her job with the Livestock Division of the Consumer and Marketing Service in Washington, D.C.

The specialist encouraged homemakers to learn to recognize the inspection mark—a circle—that tells the consumer that the meat is clean and wholesome and the grademark—a shield—that tells the quality of the meat.

For most appetizing and flavorful cooking results the specialist suggested suiting the cuts to the cooking method. Moist heat (liquid or covered utensil) was suggested for less tender active portions or animal. Dry heat (broiling or roasting uncovered) was suggested for tender cuts from less-muscles.

Legislature Ends Long Weekend

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Arkansas Legislature reconvened today after a long weekend recess to begin an extended session that may last up to three weeks.

During the extended session, legislators still face the task of finding new revenues, must deal with appropriation matters, must draw the revenue stabilization act — which determines how the state's money will be spent — and resolve several other issues, including the manner of distributing state school aid.

Among the major administration tax proposals still alive are the House version of the corporate income tax, now awaiting action in the Senate, that would produce about $8 million in additional revenue and a cigarette tax increase.
